David Chivers

Department of Economics, Durham University Business School
david.chivers@durham.ac.uk
www.davidchivers.co.uk

- My current research interests lie at the intersection between macroeconomics and labour economics.

CURRENT POSITION

- Assosciate Professor of Economics, Durham University (July 2022 - Present)

RESEARCH

- Published Papers
  - "Labour Immobility Between Industries: Consequences for the Macroeconomy" (2024) Economic Systems with Parantap Basu and Changhyun Park
  - "Success, Survive or Escape? Aspirations and Poverty Traps" (2017) Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization
  - "Employment-based Health Insurance and Misallocation: Implications for the Macroeconomy" (2015) Review of Economic Dynamics with Zhigang Feng and Anne Villamil
  - "Fearing the Worst: The Importance of Uncertainty for Inequality" (2015) Economic Theory with Keith Blackburn
- Published Books
  - "How to Read Numbers: A Guide to Statistics in the News (and Knowing When to Trust Them)" with Tom Chivers (2021), W&N.
    - Reviewed in the The Times, Daily Mail, The Critic, The Independent The Big Issue
    - Interviewed for BBC Radio 4's More or Less, Times Radio, BBC Science podcast
    - Translated into multiple languages (Chinese, Korean, Japanese, Russian) and broke the top 100 books sold on Amazon UK
    - 11,000 copies sold worldwide
- Work in Progress
  - "Necessity Entrepreneurship and Misallocation" with Elisa Keller
  - "NIMBYISM and Inequality" with Isaac Gross

PREVIOUS POSTS, ADMINISTRATION AND TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- Assistant Professor in Economics - Durham University (September 2015 - July 2022)
  - Supervised 2 PhD students to completion: Changhyun Park (Bank of Korea), Henry Aviomoh (World Bank)
  - Macroeconomics - Second Year (4.3/5 teaching score)
  - Advanced Macroeconomics - Third Year (4.8/5 teaching score)
  - European Economics - Second Year (4.8/5 teaching score)
  - Macroeconomic Applications and Policy - Second Year (5/5 teaching score)
  - Microeconomic Applications and Policy - Second Year (5/5 teaching score)

- Programme Director for Economics - Durham University (September 2022 - Present)
- Year Tutor - Durham University (September 2020 - 2022)
- Lecturer in Economics - Exeter College, University of Oxford - (September 2014 - August 2015)
  - Macroeconomics - Masters
  - Introduction to Macroeconomics - First Year
  - Macroeconomics - Second Year
  - Quantitative Economics - Second Year
- The Home Office: ESRC Internship Scheme (February 2012 - September 2012)
  - Member of Crime and Policing Analysis Unit

EDUCATION

- PhD Economics, University of Manchester – Funded by ESRC +3 Studentship 2010, Quota Award (September 2010 - May 2015)
  - Supervisors: Prof. Keith Blackburn & Prof. Anne Villamil

MEMBERSHIP AND REFEREEING EXPERIENCE

- Referee for Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization, BE Journal of Macroeconomics, Theory and Decision, The Manchester School, Economic Systems, Swiss National Science Foundation
- I am an Associate Fellow of the Institute of Advanced Studies (September 2022-present)
- I am a Fellow of the UK Higher Education Academy (January 2015)
- Member of Center for Macroeconomics And Policy (CEMAP) at Durham University
- Member of the Royal Economic Society

MEDIA ENGAGEMENT

- Articles written for Huffington Post, the Conversation, the Northern Echo, Economy Class (personal blog)
- Featured in Expansion, El Economista, Merco Press, Teinteresa, El Universal, El Carabobeno El Mundo
- Radio interviews for BBC, Share FM, Times Radio

AWARDS AND GRANTS

- £55k Institute of Advanced Studies Major Grant
- £2K Institute of Advanced Studies Development Grant
- £1.5K MMF external grant for conference on "Too much or too little credit?" at Durham University
- £59.5K ESRC +3 Studentship 2010, Quota Award